

MRS. BRADLEY-MARTIN: HER GREAT "SOCIAL ACHIEVEMENT"—MOST EXPENSIVE AFFAIR IN HISTORY.

WAS A DAZZLING FAIRY LAND

Bradley-Martin Fancy Ball Has No Historical Parallel.

SUPERB SOCIAL FUNCTION
Mise en Scene One of B-wildering Enchantment.

Mrs. Bradley-Martin is No Doubt Delighted at Her Costly Amusement For. It Was What the Lamented George Pepper Would Have Designated as "Hot Dog." Women, Old and Young, Fairly Blazed with Diamonds—Livered Flunkies in Attendance, All Same, Foreign Events—Kings and Queens, Emperors, Knights, Cardinals, Rinces and Cavaliers by the Gross and Only Two George Washingtons—Description of the Event in New York City, Where the Soup House Flourished and the Well of Hungry Children Mingled with the Music of the Band—Oh, Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean; the Home of the Brave and the Free; When We Don Our Clothes and Go Dancin', All the World Takes Its Mat Off to Thee—List of the Guests.

New York, Feb. 10.—The Bradley-Martin fancy dress ball took place this evening in the spacious ball room of the Waldorf hotel.

The mise en scene was of bewildering enchantment, a veritable fairyland, resplendent with all that wealth and taste could command, and graced by the presence of many hundred members of the fashionable set, radiant in rich robes of historical renown.

The richness of the decorations, the beautiful allegorical toilettes, the commingling of so many beauties, old and young, amazed and charmed all fortunate enough to have been bidden to the ball.

As a superb social function it has had no parallel in America. Its fancy play, new into history and perhaps its splendour will be written down as the standard for the belles and gallants of the coming century.

There were perhaps 700 guests present, all gorgeously garbed in silks and satins, bedecked in diamonds.

detail. The Marie Antoinette ladies predominated.

AMERICAN SCARCE OF COURSE. America's historical notables seemed sadly neglected, even the father of his country, George Washington, being honored by only two representatives.

HAIR DRESSED WHILE YOU WAIT.

The guests began arriving about 11 o'clock. They entered the hotel through a private door on Thirty-third street and were immediately ushered to the second floor, where suites of 15 large apartments had been reserved for dressing purposes. Here were stationed numerous hairdressers, who, in modest and all functional uniforms required for the final polishing touches of the exquisite outfits. These rooms were decorated with a profusion of roses and smilax.

LACKY IN ATTENDING. As the guests approached, their names and the characters impersonated, they descended the flower strewn stairways to the reception parlor on the main floor. As they passed through the archway, they were met by the hostess, Mrs. Bradley-Martin, who stood beneath a canopy of rich tapestries and floral effects. Mrs. Martin wore a historical costume of the Queen Elizabeth period made of black velvet over red brocade. She was adorned with all her magnificent jewels, including her famous rose of diamonds.

ALLEGAND LEFT. It was near midnight before the quadrille of honor, the opening number of the ball, was danced. It had been organized by Mrs. Astor, John Jacob Astor, and Mrs. Bradley-Martin the queen. They led the quadrille and at one side were Mrs. Stevenson, Miss Fish and Mrs. Van Cortlandt at the opposite end Miss Gerry and J. Townsend Martin and Mrs. Whitney Warren and Mr. Leonard Stewart. The couple side couples were Mrs. Gracie Wilson and Harry Lee, Mrs. Lee Taylor and Mr. Craig Wadsworth, Mrs. Lena Morton and Mr. Center Hatcher and Miss Madeline Cutting and Mr. J. V. Van Allen.

BALANCE CORNERS. Following this came the Mrs. Edmund Baylis quadrille, which was participated in by Mrs. Gordon Mills, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Bradley-Martin, Mrs. Henry Sloan, Miss Edith Morton, Miss Van Rensselaer, Miss Alfonso De Navarro, H. D. Rolfe and the Worthington Whitehouse and others.

THEN THEY EAT. General dancing was then indulged in. Refreshment was served in the dining rooms. The tables were prettily decorated with roses. The cutlery and silverware was by Mrs. Eliza Dyer, Jr., who wore a costume of the period of Francis I. It consisted of a cloak of royal purple, a coat of the same material, richly decorated with gold embroidery. The tights were of violet silk and he wore a hat with large ostrich feathers.

NONE FROM SALT LAKE. There were guests from out of town.

small parties coming from San Francisco, Chicago, New Orleans, Washington, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

NOTABLES PRESENT. From Washington came Count Vinet of the Italian Embassy, as the duke of Gales; Misses Wetmore, Mrs. De Frayn, as a lady of the directorate of the court of Louis XIV; George Washington, Mrs. Brice as Catherine de Medici; Mr. Frank Andrews as a gentleman of the court of Louis XIV; Miss Bessie Davis, Miss and Mrs. Miss Alice Rochester, niece of Mrs. Bradley-Martin, dress of velvet and satin; Mr. Cushing Stetson as the duke of Albany; Henry De Sibur, dress of the court of Elizabeth; Miss Ethel Davies, cousin of the Bradley-Martin; the Van Rensselaer costume of purple brocade, embroidered with amethysts.

SOME POOR CLOTHES. Some of the guests and the costumes worn by them follow: Mrs. Bradley-Martin, court dress of Louis XIV white and pink brocade with a large brooch, powdered wig, etc.; Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Marie Antoinette costume; beautiful jewel ornaments; Mrs. H. P. Belmont, dress of the time of Henry II of France; James L. Breese, due De Gulse costume, white brocade and satin and velvet; Calvin S. Brice, Marquise De Lafayette in an elaborate costume of the Louis XIV period; silk hose, velvet shoes; Katherine Brice, second daughter of Senator Brice, the costume of Marie Antoinette; Miss Brice, daughter of Calvin S. Brice, costume elaborately embroidered with jewels and gift shoes of gold and silver; John R. Driskel as the Duke De Somers; John R. Driskel, Watteau costume; Elise De Wolfe, costume of Gismundo, white and gold brocade; Pierre Lorillard, costume of Romeo; Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, costume to represent the French Revolution; Mrs. O'Brien White, Louis XV costume, rose and white brocade, white hair, ruffs of pearls and diamond ornaments; Miss Lena Morton, Louis XV costume, white brocade and jeweled coronet.

SAFE AT LAST. Big Ed Rice Elected For a Long Term. New York, Feb. 10.—"The Ed" Rice, one of the best known professional criminals in this nation, has met his fate at last. He was convicted yesterday afternoon in Brooklyn before Judge Gaynor, of the supreme court, of forgery in the second degree as a second offense, and of being a professional criminal. He was remanded for sentence.

The crime of which Rice was convicted yesterday is probably the smallest transaction in which he has ever been concerned. He has a record as one of the best bank robbers and confidence men, and carried his sobriquet, "Big Ed," not because of his physical proportions, for he is rather a small man, but because of the magnitude of his criminal transactions for the last 25 years.

This last crime did not net him a single cent and even if successful would not have brought him more than $25.00. That was the amount he tried to realize on a forged check.

Rice is now 51 years old, although himself gave his age yesterday as 61. His record is as follows: He engineered a bank robbery with Horace Hovey in Halifax, N. S., in 1870 which netted him $200. Ten years later he was concerned in a diamond and bank robbery in Chicago. In 1886 he was arrested in Boston on suspicion of having committed a big burglary, but was discharged. Then he reeled a farmer in Detroit, Mich., out of $3,500. He was arrested, but skipped his bail. Subsequently he was convicted of swindling in Memphis, Tenn., and of an express robbery in Canada.

Resting Comfortably. Stanford, Conn., Feb. 10.—Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher is at midnight reported to be resting comfortably. She has had no fainting spells since early this morning.

WET TIMES FOR WEYLER

Rain Will Damage Him as Badly as Bullets.

WILL RELEASE SANGUILLY

AN AMERICAN WHO WILL BE "BANISHED."

Had He Been a Russian, or a Prussian, or an Englishman, or Any Old Thing, His Government Would Have Protected Him; But He Was an American and Dauntless Taking Legal Steps—Other News From Cuba.

New York, Feb. 10.—A dispatch to the Sun from Havana says General Weyler has denied that he intends to communicate with General Gomez, or has authorized General Garcia, or any other person, to make proposals of peace to the Cubans in arms. He says that in the preamble to the terms of the armistice, Spain has spoken, and now the insurgents should surrender and give Spain an opportunity to establish the new regime.

The degree of reforms is not, says General Weyler, a proposal to the revolutionists. It is only the announcement of what Spain is willing to do after her rebellious "sons" lay down their arms. The above declaration was made Monday by General Weyler at Santa Clara.

The Spanish press here is full of praise for the magnanimity of the mother country in granting the reforms; but what is written and printed is one thing, and what is really thought is another. The Spaniards, in fact, interpret the reforms as a last effort of the government to retain Cuba.

General Gomez's tactics are to wait for the rainy season without attempting to meet Weyler in a big battle. The Cuban army, with the scanty resources which it receives from the United States, has not all the equipment it requires to drive from the island 200,000 regular Spanish soldiers well provided with munitions. But the Spaniards have not the power to crush the revolution, which grows stronger every day.

The result is that if Cuba can obtain recognition as a belligerent from any American nation, and thus secure a reliable source from which to procure guns and cartridges, the patriots will win in a few months. It is not, the war will last for years, and in the long run Spain, which has to pay $8,000,000 a month for war expenses, will be the loser. This is recognized here to be the real situation.

Smallpox In Cuba. Washington, Feb. 10.—Surgeon-General Wyman of the marine hospital service has received a report on yellow fever and smallpox in Cuba. The cool weather and the removal of a number of the Spanish soldiers to the eastward has resulted in a decrease of the fever at Havana. During the week ending Jan. 28 there were 31 deaths in the city, 19 of which were caused by yellow fever. All were Spanish soldiers. There were about 50 new cases. Smallpox carried off 168 persons, and there were 169 new cases.

WILL RELEASE SANGUILLY.

He Will Then Leave Cuba Until After the War.

New York, Feb. 10.—A Herald special from Washington says: Spain has promised to release Julio SangUILLY, sentenced in Cuba to life imprisonment for alleged conspiracy against its government.

Secretary Olney has received from Madrid an answer to the representation made through Minister Taylor several weeks ago to the effect which is given above. When Spain will put her promise into execution cannot be learned, but the authorities here think the date is not far distant. Mr. Olney's representations were made in view of all the circumstances of the case, and especially of the long imprisonment already suffered by SangUILLY.

Under the conditions of his pardon SangUILLY will be required to leave the island and not return until the present war has terminated.

CUBAN BONDS SOLD.

Several Millions Alleged to Have Been Floated by the Junta.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—An afternoon paper makes the statement that between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 of Cuban republic bonds have been secretly issued and sold in the United States and Europe during the last year by the junta and its agents, the secrecy being explained by the question as to whether the placing of such bonds on the market was not a violation of international law. This statement is said to be made on the authority of the Cuban junta in New York. It is said the bonds are being sold in Chicago through the chairman of the Cuban committee of 1901. New York and Paris are said to be the best markets, a single remittance of $125,000 having been received from Paris. The purchase price is said to have been $100,000, and the bonds were asked and as high as $1 received. A large number of commercial concessions are also stated to have been sold through the junta.

DAUNTLESS MATTER.

Cubans Will Make Another Fight in the Courts.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The collector of customs at Jacksonville has informed the secretary of the treasury that an application has been filed in Judge Leake's court for an injunction restraining the collector and captain of the United States revenue cutter Boutwell from interfering with the movements of an alleged filibuster, Dauntless. The Boutwell is lying at the pier near the Dauntless, and is under orders not to interfere with the leave port. The hearing on the application was set for tomorrow, but Attorney-General Harmon has notified Judge Leake that he will not be ready to appear so early a date and asked for a postponement, which will likely be granted.

ATTACKS THE TREATY.

Venezuelans Don't Like It At All.

New York, Feb. 10.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Caracas, Venezuela, says: Senator Michelena, formerly in the diplomatic service of Venezuela and now minister from this country to England, has again attacked the Anglo-Venezuelan treaty in terms of grave injustice, and declared that the conditions of the above declaration are contained in a letter which is published in the Pregonero.

Senator Michelena introduces his attack on the treaty and the conditions of the Anglo-Venezuelan treaty in terms of grave injustice, and declared that the conditions of the above declaration are contained in a letter which is published in the Pregonero.

It is asserted on high authority that Rojas Paul will return to Caracas within a short time and, since himself at the head of the Conservative party.

DAKOTA SYMPATHY.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 10.—Both houses of the general assembly today unanimously passed resolutions sympathizing with Cuba and asking the government of the United States to intervene to secure the independence of the island.

CASTELMARY DEAD.

His Spirit Mounts on the Echoes of the Applause His Singing Won and Life's Curtain Drops With the Veil Which Ended His Last Earthly Success.

New York, Feb. 10.—At the conclusion of the final scene of the opera "Castelmary" at the Metropolitan Opera house tonight, the death of the well-known tenor, Castelmary, was announced.

He was 40 years of age, and had been in the opera house for 15 years. He was a native of France, and had been in the opera house for 15 years.

Killed a Lieutenant.

London, Feb. 10.—Later dispatches from Africa say that the officer killed in the capture of Bida was Lieutenant Thompson of the Leicestershire regiment. The Foully army is said to have comprised about 20,000 men, while the expedition numbered about 1,000. The expedition was led by General Buller, and was a success. The Foully army was a success.

CITY TREASURER'S BOND

Complications Arise Which Will Be Hard to Arrange.

FORM OF THE NEW BOND WHICH WAS SIGNED.

But the City Attorney Refused to Approve of It Without a Clause Which Would Make the New Bondsman Liable for the Money Lost Under the Old Bond.

A few interesting facts concerning the new bond which the council is seeking to exact from City Treasurer May came to light yesterday, and throws off some of the gauzy mystery with which the members of the council are in the habit of incising a public matter of this kind. At the same time it discloses the existing state of affairs, and this not alone confined to the treasurer's department either.

When the Bank of Salt Lake failed and something like $12,000 of the city's money was lost, the treasurer's bond was examined and said to be defective. The result was, at least, that the bondsmen of Jack May thought they had good grounds for a defense, a fact now indicated by the answer which makes to the city's suit to recover the money. They set up as a defense that Mr. May was never treasurer of Salt Lake City, never having qualified as such. However this may be, Mr. May was some time ago requested to furnish a new bond, and this is where the interesting story comes in.

City Attorney McKay was not satisfied with the old form of bond and furnished Mr. May with a new form. The latter went to his sureties, Messrs. Dooly and McCormick, and they submitted the bond to their attorneys, who pronounced it satisfactory, with the exception of one clause, which they desired changed. They communicated with City Attorney McKay over the telephone and he agreed to the change, so they say. Mr. McKay, on the other hand, says he told the attorneys to make the changes they wished and submit the bond to him for inspection. Thus there is a conflict on this point. The fact was, however, that the bond as changed by Messrs. Dooly and McCormick's attorneys was duly executed and signed.

FORM OF THE NEW BOND.

It reads: Know all men by these presents: That we, John L. May, of the city and county of Salt Lake, State of Utah, as principal, and William S. McCormick, John E. Dooly, Matthew Cullen and Abraham Hanauer, all of the same place, as sureties, severally and jointly, do hereby bind ourselves, jointly and severally, to the city and county of Salt Lake, State of Utah, in the following penal sum, to-wit:

The said John L. May, as principal debtor, and not as bond, in the penal sum of $25,000; and the said sureties in the following penal sum, to-wit: The said W. S. McCormick, in the sum of $10,000.

The said Matthew Cullen, in the sum of $5,000; and the said Abraham Hanauer, in the sum of $5,000; lawful money of the United States.

For the payment of which, well and truly to be made, we hereby bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

Sealed with our seals, and dated this day of February, A. D. 1897.

The conditions of the above declaration are contained in a letter which is published in the Pregonero.

It is asserted on high authority that Rojas Paul will return to Caracas within a short time and, since himself at the head of the Conservative party.

ON HER DOCTOR'S ADVICE, Becomes a Well Woman by Taking Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. C. C. Newcomb of St. Louis finds herself "a new woman," in the best sense of the word. An invalid woman is always a sad sight—sadder even than that of an invalid man, because of her greater capacity for suffering. Neuralgia, backache, fits of depression and headaches compel her to think or work with half her brain, while the other half throbs as if it would go to pieces. There are striking examples of the great, practical value of Paine's celery compound than are heard from line of women who have been made well.

Its ability to relieve those ills that seem to be peculiarly the misfortune of women is overwhelmingly proven by innumerable testimonials from women of the highest standing in the communities where they live.

U. P. OFFICIALS GATHERING.

In Anticipation of the Short Line Segregation.

Union Pacific officials are again gathering at Salt Lake in anticipation of the segregation of the short line. Their presence here so soon after the sale, when the Omaha officials were all on the coming to the city, is a sign of the reorganization of the old system. General Traffic Manager Munroe and General Passenger Manager Loomis arrived yesterday afternoon and General Manager Dickinson was expected at the same time but messages were afterwards received announcing that he had been detained in Nebraska but would probably reach here today. Mr. Munroe was seen last night in preparation for their visit and all business upon this absorbing topic. In fact Mr. Munroe was not at all communicative, but he was seen last night in preparation for their visit and all business upon this absorbing topic.

WILL EXTEND FROM THISTLE

Unmistakable Indications of Their Intent Towards Deep Creek.

SPURRED ON BY THE SHORT LINE'S MOVEMENTS.

Union Pacific Officials Gathering in Anticipation of the Segregation Soon to be Consummated—Lots of People Anxious to Furnish the Salt Lake and Los Angeles With Ties—Union Pacific Reorganization.

It can be stated without fear of other than superficial contradiction, that the Rio Grande Western has in view the extension of its line from Silver City into the Deep Creek district during the coming summer, and that Babcock's eastern visit was in that interest. The authority for the statement is that the Western is in better condition to begin immediately construction than any other line in Utah. Neither is it necessary for the road to go into debt to build the proposed branch, the money for such an enterprise will be forthcoming at the instance of President Dodge.

While the news of the Western's intentions is not official, it comes from such a source that The Herald feels justified in announcing the contemplated action. It has been promised prominent in the "Desp" section of the paper, and it is not surprising that the Western's scheme, these intentions have been in the mind of the Western since the summer. With what amounts to a virtual promise, the scheme has been temporarily abandoned. From such sources The Herald has obtained its construction, the more complete details of which cannot be given at this time because of agreement to withhold this matter until later.

All of this is in direct keeping with a similar prediction made some time ago in which it was said that the Rio Grande Western would build a line along the line of the Union Pacific railway in Utah. Colonel Clayton has been in the city for some time, and it is not surprising that the Western's scheme, these intentions have been in the mind of the Western since the summer. With what amounts to a virtual promise, the scheme has been temporarily abandoned. From such sources The Herald has obtained its construction, the more complete details of which cannot be given at this time because of agreement to withhold this matter until later.

PLENTY OF BIDS.

Offering Ties to the Salt Lake & Los Angeles.

Bids in response to the advertisement of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles for 100,000 ties have been received. The company's general office in the Navajo block, and yesterday being the time limit as to when they could be received, the bids were increased. There are nearly 30 separate offers in the keeping of General Passenger Agent E. A. Clayton, but none of these will be opened until the return of Manager N. W. Clayton, who is expected to arrive from the east any day, having completed arrangements for the construction, which was the object of his visit.

The advertisement has been carried in a local newspaper for about two weeks and was inserted by the order of the board of directors, of which Hon. George Q. Cannon is president. It called specifically for 100,000 red pine, Norway pine or black balsam standard gauge ties, to be delivered on or before the 1st day of July, 1897, along the line of the Union Pacific railway in Utah. Colonel Clayton has been in the city for some time, and it is not surprising that the Western's scheme, these intentions have been in the mind of the Western since the summer. With what amounts to a virtual promise, the scheme has been temporarily abandoned. Six Day Race.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—The scores in the 72 hour bicycle race tonight (75 hours) were as follows: Walter, 642 miles; 19 laps; Glenn, 645 miles; 19 laps; Schock, 619 miles; 7 laps; Hall, 615 miles; 10 laps; Forester, 311 miles; Ruckel, 322 miles; Dench, 322 miles.

Mrs. Newcomb, writing from her home, 735 Market street, St. Louis, says: "I was taken with a heavy cold, which I neglected, and pleurisy set in. Then I was in bed for several weeks. When I recovered so I could get up I had that tired feeling, and was never very well. My doctor told me to take Paine's celery compound, so I got a bottle and began to take it. I feel much better than I have for months. I was nervous and could not sleep at night. Now I rest easy, sleep well, eat well, and feel that Paine's celery compound has really made me a new woman."

Paine's celery compound is used by physicians in their own homes as well as prescribed to patients suffering from nervous diseases, sleeplessness, neuralgia, rheumatism and "run-down" condition. It is within the reach of everyone.
